Poverty, inadequate public services, high unemployment level, discrimination against women and lack of parental care are among the primary factors our society is facing at present, and a large proportion of the population is threatened by social exclusion.

Current statistics are not reliable and, for example, if we say that only children and elderly people remain in the country, the number of people who have left the country during the last ten years may vary between 600 000 and 1 200 000, the number of children excluded from schools varies between 12 000 and 16 000 and the number of homeless people is totally unknown.

Namely, these are the main priorities of the activity of Regina Pacis Foundation – providing social assistance and everything it includes – to these disadvantaged categories.

In the reported period, Regina Pacis Foundation has conducted and completed various projects and activities throughout Moldova, in accordance with the plan of activity.

The activity was focused on the following areas:
• providing information (seminars, publications for teachers, children and parents) and awareness services about the risks and consequences of social vices (human trafficking, illegal migration, HIV virus and AIDS, etc.).
• sensitizing the public opinion regarding the situation of the child in difficulty and socially vulnerable families;
• identifying, accommodating and protecting the child in difficulty (children of the street, children from socially vulnerable families, orphans, etc.) with all it implies (conditions of accommodation and meals, general atmosphere, the relationship specialized personnel - child, etc.) in order to ensure a sense of safety and trust to the child;
• identifying, protecting and providing social assistance to people from socially vulnerable layers (disabled, vagabonds, lonely elderly, children of the street, etc.).

1. EDUCATIONAL AND INFORMATION PROGRAMS

1.1. PROJECT "THE CHILD OF TODAY - THE FUTURE OF TOMORROW!

Background During 01 January 2008 - 31 June 2008 in the pre-university educational institutions in the North and Center of Moldova there were organized and conducted a series of seminars for two days within the project "The child of today – the future of tomorrow" in the domain of prevention of human trafficking, project intended for educational staff (civil servants from LPA, education directors, teachers, psychologists, medical assistants, social assistants) and young people aged from 12 to 20 years old and their family members from the counties of Drochia, Anenii Noi, Criuleni, Edinet, Telenesti, Straseni, Florești and Chisinau.

Purpose Carry out measures to counter the phenomenon of human trafficking in Moldova through sensitization, information and awareness by the population, particularly young people, young families, migrants and other vulnerable groups, about the realities of trafficking and its associated risks.

Objectives:
• mediatizing the problem and reflections regarding the realities of human trafficking and its associated risks;
• creating and training a group of 8 volunteer facilitators, at least 240 people in the domain, that will promote activities of information, prevention and prophylaxis of the phenomenon of human trafficking in the counties of: Drochia, Anenii Noi, Criuleni, Edinet, Telenesti, Straseni, Florești and Chisinau;

To accomplish the purpose and objectives of the project, the implementation team has focused its activities on instructing deputy directors for educational work and psychologists from pre-university educational institutions as volunteer facilitators from those areas, instructing adolescents (boys, girls), young women, as well as sensitizing, informing, preventing the rural population about the risks and consequences of human trafficking; changing the mentality regarding the problem of human trafficking, a process that requires a broad and complex approach. The emphasis was on developing and implementing a technological model of prevention of trafficking, of cultivation a sense of self-defense.

The purpose of training was to educate independent citizens, with a high sense of dignity and personal freedom who know how to ask questions and to analyze the situation, be able to participate in decision making, to know how to react appropriately in situations of risk and who are also well familiar with the notion and practice of democracy.

During the project unfold, the activities have been elucidated both in the republican and local press: National Radio – the broadcast ‘Junior Signal’; local TV and Radio Center from the counties of Edineț, Straseni, Rascani, Anenii Noi, local press from the concerned areas.

The project was implemented in the North and Center of Moldova: counties of Drochia, Anenii Noi, Criuleni, Edinet, Telenesti, Straseni, Florești and Chisinau City. The project participants were: deputy directors for educational work, psychologists, and adolescents from the area.

Current results within the project: 8 training sessions of 2 days each have been organized and carried out in the counties of Drochia, Anenii Noi, Criuleni, Edinet, Telenesti, Straseni, Florești and Chisinau City in which there were trained directly: 240 people (teachers, psychologists and education directors) and indirectly: 3500 people (class masters, parents, adolescents and youth).

The training-seminars (2 days) for teachers had an informational - practical character. The team of facilitators has developed the program so that teachers can receive as much useful information as to continue working with their disciples. There were used various techniques and forms of work: lecture, explanation, demonstration (MIA operative materials), role-play, case study, etc.

The following key issues were addressed: human trafficking and illegal migration (the general situation), identifying the problem, factors that trigger this phenomenon, the consequences of migration and human trafficking. There were examined the Convention to suppress human trafficking and sexual exploitation of peers; the Declaration regarding the elimination of violence against women; the Convention regarding all forms of discrimination against women; the Convention against torture and other punishment or cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment; the European Convention regarding the protection of human rights and basic freedoms. In addition to examining the international documents the participants were familiarized with the Legislation of the Republic of Moldova and that of other countries regarding the issue of illicit trafficking of human beings and illegal migration. There was mentioned the need for knowledge by the children, adolescents and even adults of the national and international legislation regarding the protection of Child and Women Rights, especially related to the phenomenon of human trafficking and illegal migration.

Within the seminars experts also have addressed other issues, for example, what are my own values?, values and beliefs, self-esteem and self-esteem components, decision-making and sexuality, how to make a decision, to know how to say "No" in situations of risk, BST and HIV / AIDS, sexual harassment, what to do if you are sexually harassed?
Experts have noted the interest of the participants concerning the problem of trafficking and illegal migration, confirming the fact that they aren’t indifferent to what happens to their peers, sisters, their mothers, young women and also with their siblings who are forced and exploited to work illegally in other countries etc.

A big part of them, in the final evaluation questionnaires, have shown willingness to continue discussions on these topics with various categories of people: adolescents, young people from all the rural areas of Moldova as it is a very stringent problem and young people from rural areas lack the information, and such meetings are useful and welcome.

1.2. REGINA PACIS INFORMATION BULLETIN

Since January 2008 within the Regina Pacis Foundation operates an Information Center. Within the Information Center was elaborated and published the Regina Pacis Information Bulletin, a regular electronic edition, which has been distributed, and continues to be distributed through the created email network.

Purpose: elaboration (electronic version), publication and regular distribution of Regina Pacis Information Bulletin through the created network of emails of beneficiaries and potential sponsors from Europe and USA.

For each edition the collaborators of Regina Pacis Foundation and Placement Center for Children prepared and elaborated promotional materials, articles for the purpose of mediatization of the activity of Regina Pacis Foundation and Placement Center throughout the Republic of Moldova and outside the country through the rubric "Regina Pacis Foundation Informs ...". Another rubric of the Information Bulletin is "News from the national and local press". The articles are selected from the national press, according to the local issues addressed within the seminars and not only because from the discussion with the participants in seminars we have concluded that the rural population has access to information. From our point of view, it is very important for the information to reach the people of different social layers from the first source, especially the socially vulnerable ones. This way they are informed about the realities of our society and thus being in situations of crisis to know how to take informed decisions for themselves. The Information Bulletin is published in Romanian and English. It is distributed free of charge to both project beneficiaries and other categories: adolescents, youth, young families, etc. from different rural areas. In addition, there was created a network of potential sponsors from Europe and USA, to which through the created network of e-mails all the editions of this bulletin are sent in order to inform them about our achievements and attract new funds in the future.

The project results: 8 editions of 12 pages each have been elaborated and distributed free of charge to both the project beneficiaries and other categories: adolescents, youth, young families, etc. from different rural areas, and also potential sponsors from Europe and USA.

1.3. ELABORATING A THEORETICAL – PRACTICAL GUIDE FOR TEACHERS, ANIMATORS AND ADOLESCENTS - HIV virus and AIDS

During the period September-December 2008 there was developed and published a theoretical and practical guide for teachers, animators and adolescents – HIV virus and AIDS. We should mention that the Guide contains a brief history of the infection with HIV virus and AIDS, explains the basic concepts and the specific characteristics of this infection. We should also mention that the guide describes the situation in the Republic of Moldova regarding HIV / AIDS and the rights of persons infected with HIV and AIDS are discussed. In compiling this guide the particularities of children’s age were taken into account and an accessible language was used both for adults and youth.

Regarding the chapter “Pupil-and self-action centered methodology - active-participatory methods” contains a description of a number of interactive methods and techniques that can be used successfully by teachers and animators to implement activities aimed at preventing HIV infection and AIDS. The teaching system of the work meets the methodological requirements and evaluation compared with the works of its kind. The contents are designed logically and consistently, according to the age particularities of adolescents. At the same time, teachers and animators can benefit from useful methods and techniques that can contribute to the assessment of the issue of contacting HIV / AIDS, awareness of the negative consequences of infection with HIV / AIDS, making a decision and creating an appropriate attitude towards persons with HIV / AIDS.

The necessity for elaborating such a guide is useful and welcome not only for the target group mentioned above, but also for children (not only) that are in detention in the penitentiaries of Moldova, where there is a stringent need for such publications.

The project results: there have been compiled and edited 3000 copies of the Guide in Romanian; direct participants in the debates within the round tables - 90 persons and indirect about 3000 people. 50 copies were donated to the Department of Penitentiary Institutions of the Republic of Moldova.

3.c. REMOTE ASSISTANCE OFFICE

In March 2003, Regina Pacis Foundation has established and launched the Remote Assistance Office. It is a project to support and offer financial help to children in difficulty, and their families. This project is conducted in partnership with Fondazione Regina Pacis Italy and Association “Ave Maria Nostra Speranza” from Mantova, Italy.

The project purpose is to strengthen the resources and capabilities in order to ensure the right of children to grow and develop in the family environment.
Project objectives:
- Providing support to families from the risk group, of various forms, relating to the maintenance and education of children within the family.
- Reducing the number of children abandoned by families.
- Providing support to children living in the street.
- Sensitizing the public opinion regarding the situation of the child and family in difficulty.

Project beneficiaries are selected from the following categories:
- Children from single-parent families;
- Orphans and children without parental protection;
- Disabled children;
- Children that beg and vagabond;
- Children that use drugs and toxic substances;
- Children from disorganized families.

We should mention that the majority of children who received assistance were living outside their family, including boarding schools and in the street. Subsequently, many children who have benefited from this project were placed in the "Regina Pacis" Placement Center for Children in which they have benefited from rehabilitation programs and reintegration into the biological family (where this is possible) and schooling.

The Regina Pacis Foundation’s employees visit the beneficiaries of the project Remote Assistance at home periodically. During each visit, they receive packages of food, hygiene products, clothes and toys. Depending on the season, the content of the package changes according to the necessities at the time.

To ensure the educational process, the beneficiaries’ expenses regarding school or kindergarten attendance are paid for. At the beginning of the school year a set of necessary school supplies is purchased.

During the winter, due to weakened immunity, morbidity increases, especially that of the children’s respiratory airways. To overcome these problems, financial resources needed for the purpose of purchasing medicines and vaccines are planned in advance. During the summer, the assisted children participate in various activities organized by the Regina Pacis Foundation in collaboration with various associations and groups of animators.

These activities, which are called "summer camps" are / were held regularly in different areas of Moldova, especially there, where the beneficiaries of this project come from and, where Regina Pacis Foundation has its structures and its partners:

1. Chisinau - Regina Pacis Placement Center from 17 Avram Iancu str.;
2. Chisinau – 'Provident House' Foundation;
3. Vărvăreca, Floresti - Regina Pacis Social Center;
4. Tiraspol, Transnistria - Regina Pacis Social Center;
5. Crețoaia, Anenii Noi - Roman Catholic Parish "St. Anthony of Padua";
6. Stauceni, Criuleni - Roman Catholic Parish "Holy Heart of Jesus."

For organizing and conducting summer camps 180 volunteer animators participated, especially from northern Italy. We should mention that the animators involved in these activities have rich experience in this regard.

Most children receiving Remote Assistance are aged between 12 and 18 years old. Children aged from 6 to 12 years old constitute 20% of total beneficiaries. The percentage represents the number of young people aged 18 - 24 years old, and we mention that most of them are former children of the street and disabled.

In 2008, 12 young people aged over 18 years old received assistance. Most of them are orphans and are in the final stage of reintegration into society, getting employed, some continue their studies at vocational schools and colleges. 60% of project beneficiaries reside in Chisinau City and its suburbs. This happens because:

a) Regina Pacis Placement Center for Children is situated in the center of the capital;
b) "children of the street", who actually come from the entire territory of Moldova, come here and seek refuge in the heart of the country, Chisinau City.

Project results: 81 people received Remote Assistance, of which: 43 boys, 38 girls; including 45 children within the family, 36 children outside the family.
